Morgan & Co., Kuhn, Loeb & Co., Kidder, Peabody & Co. and Baring Bros. & Co. London: The bonds are the remainder of a total authorization of $150,000,000. of which $100,000,000 were sold in January, 1906, on a plan of instalment payments covering more than a year. The purpose of the entire issue was to provide for the constant expansion in the company's business.

In accordance with the original terms of the $100,000,000 sale the bonds went to a syndicate at 94. But in January, 1907, the company desired to borrow $25,000,000 on three year notes, having uses for the money for extensions and improvements, and as a consideration for the purchase of the notes the bankers secured a concession in the price of the bonds, which were not then entirely paid for. The reduced price was 91 and the company secured in a tight money market all the funds desired during the year of financial stringency.
